

AHA Coding Clinic[®] for HCPCS Add-on

AHA Coding Clinic[®] is the official source for HCPCS coding advice when the classification and guidelines do not provide direction. The AHA Coding Clinic[®] for HCPCS Add-on provides a complete archive of the HCPCS coding clinics to support you in assigning the most appropriate code, to avoid claim denials. This add-on functionality gives users the ability to search using keyword, code, or even by newsletter quarter and year. With this add-on, users will have rights to view all AHA Coding Clinic[®] newsletters in their entirety. There simply is no faster and easier way to search the full library of AHA Coding Clinic[®] content.

Key features and benefits

- Optum360 edge: Official AHA Coding Clinic[®] advice at the code level. Each quarterly article is thoroughly reviewed by a live subject-matter expert and organized by subject. Each subject is then assigned to literal codes and terms as well as referenced procedures within the subject.
- Optum360 edge: Access any coding clinic in its entirety. Users no longer are limited to subjects associated with codes. Users can now search by quarter, year, etc., and see full articles with all services available in each publication.
- Search by newsletter month/year, keyword, code, etc. Whether you are using Optum360 proprietary CodeLogic™ to find a code, or using our unique search functionality to find information specific to the AHA Coding Clinic[®] content for a particular diagnosis code, you will be able to easily access the content for any code, within many locations in RevenueCyclePro.com and EncoderPro.com.
- Access years of newsletters, publications and questions. There are literally hundreds of volumes of content, all easily searchable by code/keyword, and we add to the library each quarter with the latest coding clinics and quizzes from the AHA. Users of this add-on always have access to the most current AHA information and to volumes of historical AHA content. No other online resource provides access to this valuable AHA content like Optum360.
